August 23 - August 29

LEADER NOTES

Welcome to the fall semester! We are so grateful for your commitment to serve this generation of young adults. God is moving and what a joy it is that you have said “yes!” to walking alongside 1825ers as they discover and deepen their relationship with Jesus. These first weeks are intended for you to connect with your group and develop meaningful relationships with one another. This week is focused on getting to know your group, next week we will introduce group covenant. Don't feel pressure to use every question. Choose a few from each section, allow follow-up questions, and resist the urge to fill every silence. The goal is not to complete the list—it is to begin knowing the people God has entrusted to you. If you move through the getting to know your group conversation and need additional questions, feel free to utilize our church wide curriculum for more sermon specific discussion prompts.

Trust God. Trust yourself. Trust the process. Believe for more. As an 1825 leader, you've been called to shepherd the young adults God has placed in your group. The goal is not simply to get through a curriculum, but to help people encounter Jesus, be known and loved, and take their next step of faith. Let the Holy Spirit lead, use the curriculum as a tool. Lead with authenticity, preparation, vulnerability, and discernment. You don't have to manufacture growth because God does that. Your job is to create space for Him to move, celebrate what He's doing, and continually point your group beyond itself. Our hope is that every 1825 group becomes a place where young adults are poured into so they can ultimately pour out. Let 1825 become the Church, stepping into ministry, and living lives marked by service, love, and mission.

DISCOVER

As our church begins Neighbors to Nations, we desire that 1825 discover what God's word says about missions. Where better to learn than from the early church? As a ministry we will be studying the book of Acts. In this portion of curriculum, you will find reading plans and guiding questions for the study. This discussion begins week three (9/6).

1825 is a ministry of The Church of Eleven22 that exists to connect 18-25 year olds to their role in the Great Commission.
